

Mr. IVERSON raised his single voice in favor of the Senate acceding to the suggestions of the House. Divers gentlemen were then anxious to adjourn. Mr. BIGLER brought unanimous consent to inand the Senate has acted, and the representative of the people should not remain silent. There could be no doubt of these outages. There has been more than thirty of them within six weeks against the law of nations, as expounded by Webster and Calhoun, and decided by Story and Stowell. The doctrine was that on every nation was equal, and every flag which symbolized an honest nationality sacred. Pirates could be taken where found, but our people are not pirates, and therefore had been outraged. Those who committed those outages had orders, or they had not. It was an act of war. If not, they were robbers.

The report of the explosion of the boiler of the pro-labor Buckeye, and consequent loss of thirty lives, is out to have been a hoax, originated by a person claiming to be a survivor, for the purpose of exciting sympathy of the charitable.
